Introduction

Man, the most innovative creation on the blue green globe has moved from being a mere six sense animal to a unique creature that can think, act and develop himself. The stages of his development have grown from the Old Stone Age to this era ofcomputers and artificial intelligence. He has changed from being a creature draped in leaves and twigs, eating fruits and meat and sheltering under trees and caves to a person with skills dressed in well fitted garments, eating cooked food of different cuisines and sheltering under air conditional multistory buildings. This change has been possible only due to his skills especially entrepreneurial skills.

Skill can be described as a basic ability for anyone to complete a particular work. Skill can be inborn or it can be acquired. This skill can be developed to group people to work together as a team and to step to success. This particular skill to four sees the task and groups everyone and motivates all and guide them towards the set objective is rightly called as entrepreneurial skills. This to a layman can be rightly known leadership qualities which lav foundation for a business firm. But in reality, it is more than being a mere leader. It can be described as the ability to understand how and when a product or service is needed and finding means of developing the same. The origin of the word 'entrepreneurship' is 'rooted in the Latin language, from the words prehendere and apprehensione.

Entrepreneurship understood as an individual or collective system and internal or external to the organizational structure, developing something new, from conception of ideas to the creation of a business. In other words, entrepreneurship is defined as the capacity and willingness to develop, organize and manage a business venture along with any of its risks in order to make a profit. Entrepreneurial skills combine range technical. а of management and personal skills. As such, there is no established, simple definition of the entrepreneurial skill set.

Entrepreneurship plays an important role in the economic growth of the country. Entrepreneurship means doing something in an innovative and effective way. It is a dynamic process of creating wealth by individuals or groups by the use of various resources. Entrepreneurship helps one to start his or her own business. It also lays the foundation for empowered of women.

The word entrepreneur is derived from the French word 'entreprendre'. It means to undertake. An entrepreneur is a person who establishes his own business or industrial undertaking with a view to make profit. An entrepreneur is one who converts raw materials into finished product and markets them. Entrepreneurs are persons who initiate, organize, manage and control the affairs of a business unit to supply goods and service.

Women Entrepreneurs - A boost to every family:

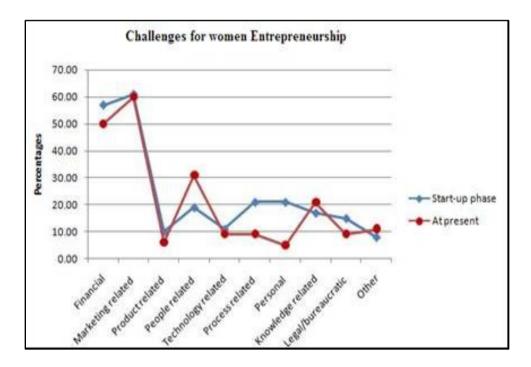

Women entrepreneurs are those who start their own industry or actives where they can produce and market. "A women entrepreneur can be defined as a confident, innovative and creative woman capable achieving self-economic independence individually or collaboration, generates employment opportunities for others through initiating, establishing and running the enterprise by keeping pace with her personal, family and social life" - Kamal Singh.

The Government of India defined women entrepreneur as "an enterprise owned and controlled by a woman having a minimum financial interest of 51 per cent of the capital and giving at least 51 per cent of the employment generated in the enterprise to women." However, this definition is subject to criticism mainly on the condition of employing more than 50 per cent women workers in the enterprises owned and run by the women.

Women occupy almost 50% of the population, hence to attain complete development they must also take up jobs or become entrepreneurs, to raise the status of women in society, economic and social development of women will also lead to the political development of the country. The women entrepreneurs play multiple roles doing various activities at home as well as in the working spot thereby satisfying every one. The motivational factors which encourage women to set up an enterprise are ones education, capacity, family back ground, social standards, financial status and motivation by others. Some of most common factors that facilitate women to become entrepreneurs are family need, their support, financial facilities, networking, skills, thinking differently and above all self satisfaction. The basic problems faced by the women entrepreneurs are shown in the graph below.
